Monday 14th: Ss Cyril (826-69) Monk and Methodius (815-85), Bishop, Patrons of Europe were brothers who evangelized Moravia, Bohemia and Bulgaria and are venerated as the 'Apostles of the Slavs.' They translated liturgical books into Slavonic with the help of the Cyrillic alphabet, which they invented. In 1980 St John Paul II proclaimed them Patrons of Europe, along with St Benedict.

St. Valentine's Day This day is a celebration of love. What is love? I don't think you can find a better definition than that given by St Paul. "love is not jealous or boastful; it is not arrogant or rude. Love does not insist on its own way, it is not irritable or resentful; it does not rejoice at wrong, but rejoices in the right. Love bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things" (1 Cor 13:4-7).

FROM THE PASTORS DESK

First Holy Communion - Enrolment Sunday

Thank you so much to the boys and girls and their parents who turned up for the Enrolment Rite at last weekend's Masses. It was a great turnout. The girls and boys names are listed in our Parish Enrolment Folder which is at the Sacred Heart Altar during the weekend Masses.

1st Holy communion Mass

Next weekend 19th/20th February the boys and girls and their parents are invited to attend and participate in one of the weekend Masses

Confirmation Retreats

These are taking place in the Church at the moment with the boys and girls from the 6th classes.

Painting of the Extension

The Parish Finance and Property Committee are delighted with the painting of the 'Extension'. It has certainly brightened up the space and you will also notice that all the lights are back in working order. The painting as well as the necessary cleaning beforehand cost in the region of €17000. Thank you to all contributors and to the benefactor and parishioner who made a substantial and sizeable anonymous donation.

Jesus' own life

The best commentary on Jesus' sermon is Jesus' own life. Jesus did not live his life as if he was blessed by God; he lived out his life in the constant awareness that God did indeed bless him. In the course of that life he experienced poverty, not only the poverty of deprivation, but the poverty of standing alone against the crowds, the poverty of total reliance on his Father. He experienced hunger, not just the hunger that can be answered by bread, but the hunger that can only be satisfied by doing what is right. He had reason to weep and mourn not only at the loss of a dear friend but at the lost opportunities of his own people. He was no stranger to being held up as a clown for the amusement of all; he knew the experience of rejection, betrayal and abandonment.

All this was experienced by Jesus in the course of his mission; it wasn't adopted as some precious theological posture. It was the outcome of a life dedicated to God.

The beatitudes are not prescriptions for becoming poor or hungry or mournful or afflicted. They are addressed to those who are already involved in committing themselves to the kingdom, and they give instances of what happens when the committed to keeping his people at the level of being hurt and wounded – if that kingdom arrives in this broken world. They speak of a variety of experiences that people go through as a result of getting involved in God's way of doing things. So, there is the promise that God can handle the poverty, the hunger, the tears, the rejection.

The promise is that God handles all these things, lifting his people out of them. That is the Good News. God is not were true the beatitude would read, "Blessed are you who weep, for you shall weep even more." The vision of the God of the beatitude is the vision of a generous God, one who reverses the tragedy. "Blessed are you who weep" is the tragedy; "for you shall laugh" is the comedy. And it is the comedy, not the tragedy, which is the promise. (Source: Fr Denis McBride C.SS.R – Seasons of the Word)
