November
We remember our own dead and our own sadness this November. Tears speak out our grief, but they also witness to our love and we are glad to have loved so much that we can cry. May those we have loved rest in your embrace, O Lord.

FROM THE PASTORS DESK

Synod 2023 On 17th October in the Pro-Cathedral, the Archbishop gave his Reflections at the launch of the Diocesan Phase of the Synod of the Church "Communion, Participation, Mission" which will be held in Rome in 2023. Continuing the extract from the Archbishop's address:

God who has brought his people to life ... knows what's in the Church, and God chips away, year after year, century after century letting out the life he knows is among us

Could it be that our way of looking at the Church—and seeing only what's on the outside, that God's vision for us, this way of walking together has been obscured—his way ever since he brought Abraham on his journey of faith and brought his people out of Egypt?

Or does journeying together threaten us? The apostles listened to each other, shared with each other and prayed together and called on the Holy Spirit throughout their deliberations. This was not a matter of a few hours. Theirs was a long process. Yet, in this manner they discerned the way forward. They did not have a pre-determined answer or jump to the conclusion before they started to engage, listen and discern. There is a dynamism involved in this process.

"What is the Spirit saying to the Churches?" (Rev 2:7). We are asked to trust the Holy Spirit to lead us together in discerning the changes that are necessary for renewal and reform. What part of the Church requires new energy, renewed efforts, some fresh vitality, in order to bring the message of Jesus Christ to the contemporary world? How do we begin? We begin at a local level in the parish by listening to each other. When we gather, Pope Francis asks "us not to soundproof our hearts; let us not remain barricaded in our certainties. So often our certainties and make us closed. Let us listen to one another".

Now is the time to face whatever needs renewal in the Church. We are now called into service of God's way of bringing the Church to new life. Let us discover the same confidence that Ezekiel had in the valley of the dry bones. Remember it was the movement of God's Spirit that came upon the dry bones and restored flesh to them. So, too, with what awaits enlivening in our Church.

For the conclusion of the month of October, which is dedicated to the Holy Rosary, a little liturgy of the Rosary took place every afternoon from the 25th to the 31st October in our parish church, titled "Meditating on the Mysteries of Salvation". Fr Frank would like to sincerely thank everyone who took part in our daily prayers and so generously contributed to our liturgy.

First and foremost, many thanks to our parishioners who actively and faithfully participated in the Rosary devotions in our church and through the webcam. Heartfelt thanks also go to our sacristan team for their diligent service, and last but not least to Mary and Frances who made our little celebrations so special with their lovely musical accompaniment. May God bless you all.

Children's Corner
In the Gospel this week Jesus warns us against putting on a show and thinking we look good while really being mean and nasty. We are living as God asks when we are generous and we trust God, like the poor widow who gives all she has to the Temple.

I can share
We can be generous to people in many ways.

Draw yourself sharing your sweets with a friend.

Follow God's law
Jacob's mum is very busy. Jacob wants to help. Circle the ways that he can be very generous with his time and help his mum.

Put the shopping away
Tidying up
Stay on the laptop
Watch TV
Washing up
Make his bed

A Prayer to say
Dear Jesus, please help me not to care too much about what people think of me. Help me to care more about how loving and generous I am, so that I grow to be like you. Amen.

Distribution of Holy Communion—new method to maintain as much social distancing as possible when processing forward:
Congregation will come up by the side aisles and down the middle

We welcome our recently Baptised

We remember our recently deceased
